DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not a single paragraph.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification recites the term "interlink" and the claims recite the term "interlock". It is unclear if these are the same or separate elements. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,083,122 to Clark.

Clark '122 discloses a lock driver (20,16); a biometric verifier (column 11, lines 50-51); a key cylinder (15); an interlock (shaft at end of 15) configured to interlock the key cylinder with the lock driver; a key (figure 4).

As concerns claim 2, a lever (14); a pivot shaft (figure 2; shaft on 14); a hollow (figure 2; hollow in figure 2 for 15) formed through the pivot shaft configured to receive the key cylinder; the interlock is extended from the key cylinder (figure 5); an end of the interlock is joined with the lock driver when the lever with the key cylinder incorporated in the hollow is installed on the door (figure 5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,083,122 to Clark as applied to claims 1 and 2 above in view of U.S. Patent No. 4,503,422 to Hsu.

Clark '122 does not disclose a detector and an alarm for responding to manipulation of the key cylinder.

Hsu '422 teaches a detector (SW2) and an alarm for responding to manipulation of the key cylinder (abstract).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the door lock system of Clark '122 with a detector and an alarm, as taught by Hsu '422, in order to provide an added element of security.

Allowable Subject Matter

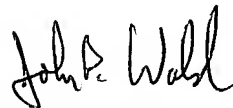

7. Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
